This is certainly not what I had in mind. Yes, let's talk tomorrow. It's done for today.

Not sure we need to respond, but at least we have something we can come to you with if we need to later. Looks really close. Since the public, just a small adjustment.

Is this okay for us to keep on standby? This works for public emails perfectly. Actually, this works for anybody with a few tweaks.

Mary,

The biggest request we are getting are emails just asking for assurance we are science based as always. The original short statement is something we might be able to use to reassure people. Not looking for anything other than assurance "we have not changed". That was the thought anyway. This is of course if we decide to respond to the emails.

Ken, Louis,

Susan just called with the potential message on NHC work. I made a few suggestions, but mainly want to pitch a few delivery options to you. [Redacted]

Or

2) [Redacted]
[Redacted] (b)(5)

Best,

Mary
